Letter From the President and Tour of Kitchens Chair

Dear Friends and Patrons,

Welcome! The Junior League of Atlanta, Inc. (JLA) is delighted to present the 23rd Annual Tour of Kitchens. Not only is this a showcase of some of the region's most esteemed designers and beautiful homes, but it's also an opportunity to highlight the JLA's mission of promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women and improving our community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Over the past two decades, Tour of Kitchens has raised more than two million dollars that has helped grow our work in the Atlanta community!

As we celebrate 23 memorable years of Tour of Kitchens, we would like to express our sincere gratitude for the generous support of guest kitchen designers for sharing their talents, our homeowners for welcoming tour patrons, our invaluable partners and sponsors, dedicated donors, volunteers and attendees. We also extend a special thank you to Atlanta Homes & Lifestyles Magazine and Brad Hanner, without whom this beloved springtime tradition would not be possible.

To officially start the 2020 Tour of Kitchens season, hundreds of guests attended Pour Before the Tour on January 30, 2020. Thanks to the generosity of our host sponsor, Daltile, guests met designers and homeowners featured on the tour, and the event was a resounding success. Toast of the Tour, our annual cocktail celebration will be a festive culmination to a successful Tour of Kitchens on Friday, April 3, 2020. The event is sponsored and graciously hosted by Ciot.

As you take the two-day, self-guided Tour of Kitchens on March 21 & 22, 2020 through 14 of our city's most stunning homes, we encourage you to get inspiration and immerse yourself in the creativity and innovation of the Atlanta design community. Each home is a showcase of the best and most inventive designs in our city. During the weekend, don't miss out on the special culinary and event demonstrations, tastings, and more at our homes. Please share your experiences during the weekend and follow along by using #JLATOK on social media.

Throughout our 103 years of service, the JLA has harnessed the potential of Atlanta women to take the lead in an ever-evolving world and create a healthy community for children, women and families. JLA has served as the premier source for civic leadership training and development opportunities for women who want to bring about lasting and meaningful change in their community. Our diverse group of members are a relevant and modern movement of women who are at the forefront of tackling some of the toughest issues affecting women and children - issues surrounding commercial sexual exploitation and human trafficking, early childhood education and generational poverty.

Your patronage of Tour of Kitchens enables JLA members and our community partners to take the lead and deliver transformational community change. We look forward to seeing you during the Tour of Kitchens!!

Warmly,

Tour of Kitchens Events

The JLA Tour of Kitchens is excited to feature these events during the course of the weekend. For further detail regarding the schedule of events, please visit www.tourofkitchens.org.

BATDORF & BRONSON COFFEE ROASTERS

Ren Doughty has been active in the specialty coffee world for 20 years. He's the Outreach & Customer Support Coordinator for Batdorf & Bronson Coffee Roasters and he can't imagine working for anyone else. Batdorf & Bronson has been sourcing and roasting some of the world's best specialty coffee right here in Atlanta for 25 years. Many of Atlanta's favorite restaurants and cafes serve Batdorf. When he's not hanging out with his wife Julia and their three children, you'll find Ren leading tours of the Batdorf roastery, serving fresh coffee at art events around town, judging local latte art competitions, or riding his motorcycle to a good bookstore.

CALYROAD CREAMERY

CalyRoad Creamery, one of Georgia's first micro-creameries for artisan cheese, was established in May of 2009 by two sisters, Cathy and Robin, who quite simply, wanted to learn and experience something totally unique. Both women were at a turning point in their lives. Both had held successful careers, enjoyed wonderful marriages and raised children. Yet they both yearned to create something special. The idea for making cheese was sparked by a pet dairy goat and her two kids. The two women developed a passion for making cheese after visiting several cheese makers in the neighboring states of North Carolina and Alabama. Ultimately, they attended the Vermont Institute of Artisan Cheese and fell in love with that magic ingredient...MILK! Come visit CalyRoad Creamery and enter into the world of cheese making.... Once you learn about the magic of milk, you will never look at cheese the same way!

CHARLES WILLIS

An Atlanta institution since 1948, Charles Willis has proudly served three generations of brides with its fine china, crystal, invitations, and gifts. Charles Willis offers over 400 china patterns from the finest manufacturers in the world, assuring that today's brides will find the perfect pattern. Its bridal registry has expanded nationwide via the website, www.charleswillis.com. Visit Charles Willis in the heart of Buckhead at 465 East Paces Ferry Road or call 404-233-9487.

DONETTO, CHEF MATTHEW RYDER

With more than a decade of experience in the restaurant industry, Matthew Ryder brings a zealous and diverse culinary background to West Midtown's Donetto, where he serves as executive chef. Ryder began his career in the restaurant industry at just 14 years-old, washing dishes and learning to love the gratification behind delivering a fantastic meal. He experienced several facets of restaurant operation - including bussing, serving and cooking on the line - before attending Cape Fear Community College in Wilmington, N.C., where he obtained an associate degree in Culinary Applied Sciences. Following graduation, Ryder dove further into the kitchen as chef consultant, head chef and most recently, sous chef at the former Adalina in Atlanta. Ryder enjoys expressing his artistic and culinary passions through the modern Italian menu at Donetto, where he plans to make micro-seasonal changes throughout the year, while positively influencing the West Midtown community both in and out of the kitchen. When he's not in the restaurant, Ryder can be found exploring his new hometown of Smyrna, Ga. with his fiancé, Caroline, and Goldendoodle, Harry.

ERICA LEE, EXECUTIVE PASTRY CHEF AT THE FOUR SEASONS HOTEL ATLANTA

Four Seasons Hotel Atlanta's new executive pastry chef, Erica Lee, has been inspired by the hospitality industry since she was a young girl in her native Korea. As executive pastry chef for such a prestigious and globally recognized hotel group, Lee brings her creative flair to the dessert menus in the restaurant and for the hotel's private events and meetings. With her imagination always being exuded through her creations, what is Lee's favorite dessert to both make and enjoy? Classic cheesecake with blueberry compote will always take the cake. Lee is married to her husband, Jacob. Together they are the parents to their son, Justin.

GOLDA KOMBUCHA

Started in Atlanta in 2013, Golda Kombucha is Georgia's first and finest sparkling kombucha tea—a probiotic drink containing vitamins and live and active cultures to aid digestion, boost the immune system, and energize the body. All of Golda's Kombucha flavors feature a fresh Southern-grown fruit and herb pairing, and are free from artificial flavors, coloring, and preservatives.

HAPPY CAMPER

Katie Mitchell is the owner and head taste tester at Happy Camper, a local healthy foods company making it easier to eat healthy on the go. While working as a management consultant, Katie saw a need for clean-ingredient foods that were quick and wholesome to fuel her hectic workdays when she couldn't find time to make them herself. Happy Camper started as a way to fill a personal need and now serves all gluten-free, dairy-free and vegetarian convenience foods to Atlanta and beyond!

HEAVENLY CAKES

Heavenly Cakes by Pharez is a manufacturer of gourmet gluten free baked goods that are so good, you won't believe they are gluten free. Pharez Roberson the owner of Heavenly Cakes is a self taught Pastry Chef who is passionate about providing amazing products that you'll crave no matter your dietary needs. In 2007, Pharez learned the stomach pain and discomfort he had suffered with since birth was the result of a gluten allergy. In transitioning to a gluten free diet, he was unhappy with the gluten free flours available as they altered the taste and texture of his products. As a result, Pharez developed Heavenly Cakes Gourmet gluten free flour which is used in all of Heavenly Cakes products. Today, Heavenly Cakes's amazing gluten free products can be found in restaurants, hotels, coffee shops, stadiums, conference halls, and Whole Foods Market's throughout the Atlanta area.

JLA KIDS IN THE KITCHEN

The Junior League of Atlanta, Inc. Kids in the Kitchen is an initiative dedicated to fighting childhood obesity by engaging children and their parents in a hands-on environment to learn about making healthy eating and lifestyle choices. Kids in the Kitchen volunteers can be seen at various community events around the city,

KING OF POPS

Summertime, smiles, and Southern culture on a stick - we're King of Pops. Founded in 2010, we exist to create unexpected moments of happiness. Boasting flavors like Chocolate Sea Salt, Raspberry Lime, Banana Puddin', and Pineapple Habanero, our team of 100 or so passionate people is empowered and excited to thoughtfully do what it takes to make any experience special. We scour the South for sustainable fruits and sourceable farmers for our five locally focused kitchens. Inspired by two brothers who started with a single pushcart on a street corner in Atlanta, we chop, mash, freeze, and ship thousands of artisanal popsicles a day. Today we're a lot bigger but not different. Check out our free weekly yoga classes that draw hundreds, drop by one of our carts, suggest our 500th flavor, or bring us to your next event. www.KingofPops.com.

O-KU, CHEF CHOUM "SLEEP" LOY

Joining O-Ku Atlanta in 2019 as executive chef, Choum "Sleep" Loy brings more than 12 years of culinary experience to the Westside's premier sushi staple. The industry veteran brings leadership, knowledge of the cuisine's tradition and an invigorating energy to the Atlanta team. Born in Cambodia and raised in Philadelphia, Loy spent a majority of his childhood learning the industry and training under chefs, including his wife's father, who inspired his passion and pursuit of a career in the culinary industry. Following his high school graduation, Loy eagerly picked up a range of culinary techniques, perfecting his knife skills and continually striving to deliver the perfect dish and experience to guests. Loy joined the Indigo Road Restaurant Group team four years ago and has worked up the ranks, where he perfects traditional sushi techniques and seamlessly integrates classic sushi with a fresh take. When Loy is not in the kitchen at O-Ku Atlanta, you can find him spending time with his wife in Marietta or enjoying music and movies.

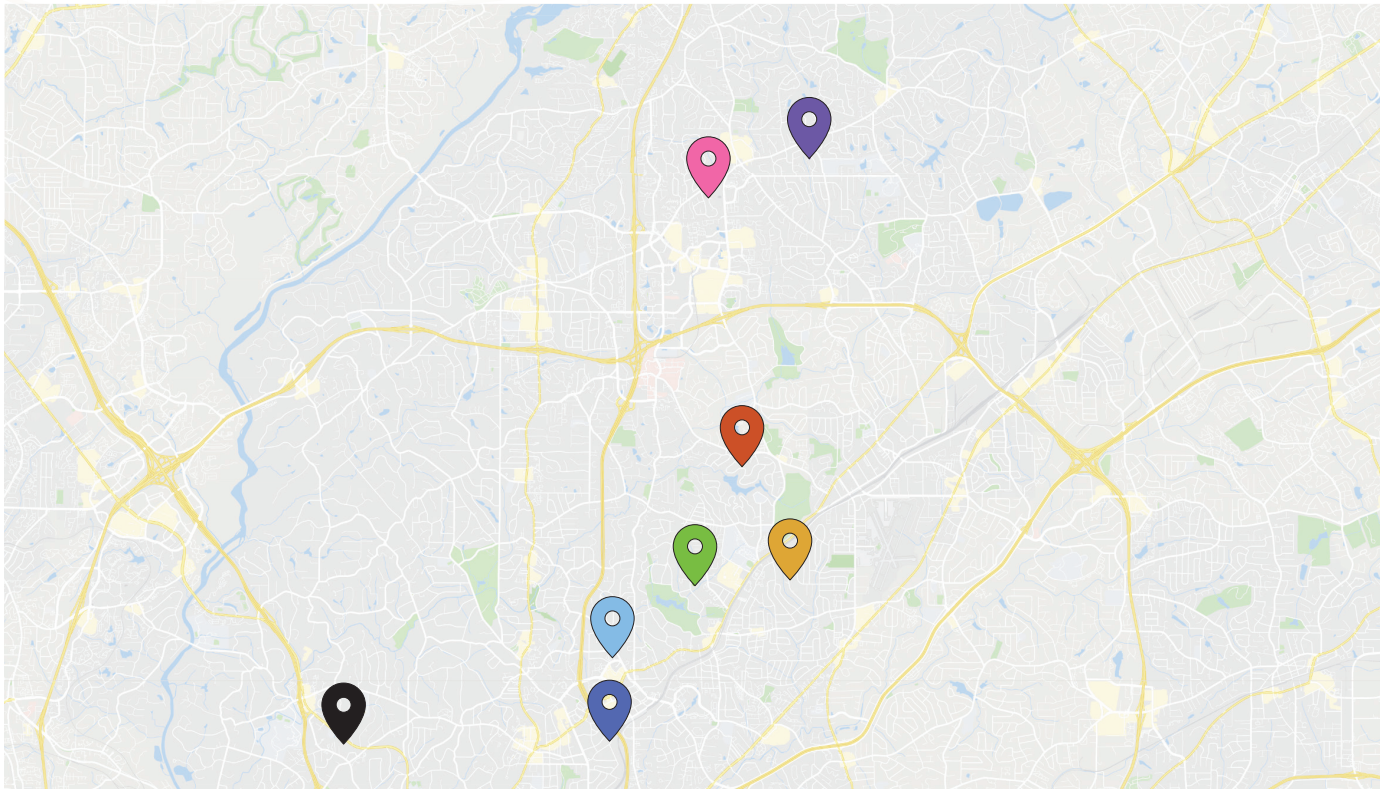

TIFF'S TREATS

When Tiffany Taylor and Leon Chen were college sophomores at the University of Texas, she stood him up for a date and delivered hot-from-the-oven cookies to apologize. Leon convinced Tiff to turn her cookies into a business, and the first on-demand warm cookie delivery company was born. The company started as small as you can get, with the two of them taking orders on a cell phone and baking cookies in the oven at Leon's apartment. Today, Tiff and Leon are married, and the dream of delivery warm cookies is still alive and well, with more and more new stores popping up around the US each year. A commitment to a simple menu of classic cookie flavors, baked-to-order, and top-notch service keeps the company focused and growing. As of 2020, they're now shipping Take & Bake kits nationally! If you haven't experienced the moment you receive a box of warm cookies from Tiff's Treats, what are you waiting for? Visit cookiedelivery.com or download the Tiff's Treats mobile app to treat yourself or someone else day or night.

About the Kitchen

Nestled behind Phipps Plaza in a picturesque enclave in Buckhead this year's kitchen was part of a larger whole home remodel. The homeowners are empty nesters with a passion for art and collecting. The kitchen palette of chalk and soft black is accented by a dramatic concrete backsplash tile. Its unique 3D texture is the perfect backdrop. The design of the kitchen and adjoining living areas allow the homeowners to interact with friends and family while they are curled up on the couch by the fire or hanging out on one of the covered porches.

The custom cabinets offer a tremendous amount of storage as well as a hidden prep area and coffee bar. The cabinets are accented by natural Britannium hardware and Bianco Trajane countertops. Our clients love to cook so naturally Thermador appliances were chosen for their versatility. Please come visit us. We look forward to seeing you.

About the Kitchen

This new home construction in Brookhaven was the vision of our clients moving to Atlanta for the first time. The husband and wife like to entertain friends and family, so the kitchen was an important feature for them. The focus of the design was to create a multifunctional kitchen that also appeals to the eye. The user should be comfortable preparing a meal for one in this space, as well as be adequate enough for a professional chef or catering team during a large gathering. Everything is within a few steps reach, so preparing a quick meal on a daily basis is very easy, but the large island overlooking the family room from the food prep area allows for multiple people to work and interact at the same time. The cabinets were custom fitted with lots of clever and practical storage solutions, while the 7 foot tall walnut and brass hood is an elegant focal point demanding attention. The walnut hutch/pantry/buffet was designed to be an elegant extension of the kitchen intended as a furniture piece that complements the hood and ties together the entire space.

About the Kitchen

Designed in collaboration with two Atlanta experts, architect Bill Baker and interior designer Liz Shults, our team set out to create a kitchen open to the house and where everyone could participate in meal preparation and socialization. The kitchen space in this home is surrounded by many additional rooms. It is always difficult to design a kitchen with so many doorways and windows, however the end result, a cohesive functional and timeless design, is nothing short of stunning.

Two storage towers running all the way to the countertop bookend the range wall featuring a custom stainless and brass hood. In addition to windows on each side of the hood, we added a shiplapped skylight above an 11-foot island at the axis of the room to saturate the space with natural light. Anchored by the nostalgia of an antique distressed hutch hosting family heirlooms and a breakfast banquette reminiscent of the one we designed in their previous home, this kitchen brings family together for cooking, relaxing and entertaining.

About the Kitchen

This client was building a new home in an established neighborhood and wanted something that would be in keeping with the architecture of her home while incorporating her sense of style in both colors and textures. We used a combination of paints and stains in deep greys and pale naturals and transitional door styles to give the kitchen its own identity while maintaining a cohesive flow with the rest of the house. Focus was placed on storage and function in each area of the kitchen to incorporate everything they wanted into the large, open kitchen. With limited upper cabinet space, we wanted to keep the countertops clutter free yet have everything close at hand so we created specialized pull out solutions for trash, trays, knives, spices, pots, pans, dishes, small appliances and even a built-in TV. The final touches in the design are the hood and end caps on one island featuring architectural shapes with a second island featuring a waterfall countertop. The end result is nothing short of stunning!

About the Kitchen

A major renovation was needed to update this kitchen to create a gracious space for raising a young family and entertaining. Soffits were removed over the old brown cabinets to visually increase the volume. For better flow and entertaining ease, the wall between the kitchen and dining room was opened up. All of the old stained trim was removed and replaced with painted trim. Two new windows were installed to add light and provide space for the professional 48" range. Custom cabinets in white and gray create the elegant ambiance with sparkle from gold pendant fixtures and glossy backsplash tile. The range and custom hood centers the meal preparation area, while the refrigerator, microwave, speed oven, and warming drawer are efficiently close. Dual dishwashers in the large island were a must, and make clean-up easy after frequent entertaining. An inset walnut top over the seating area is the perfect spot for breakfast or homework, while the adjacent bar makes entertaining guests a pleasure.

About the Kitchen

When the homeowners bought their home in 2012, they saw the potential. While the existing kitchen was adequate, it was not functional to their needs. They wanted to create a home with a warm, family atmosphere where the kitchen would be at the heart. They needed enough space to cook for their busy family of four as well as room to host and entertain out-of-town family and friends. They decided to redesign the entire space. Gone were the dated cabinets and Corian countertops. In came lovely raised panel doors in a painted warm grey tone as well as flat panel Rift & Quartered White Oak cabinets in a complimentary dark hue. The lines of the cabinetry and the hardware-mixed with modern touches in lighting and backsplash-create a welcoming transitional feel, perfect for the way they live. Form and function working together to create this warm and inviting family home.

About the Kitchen

This 1925 classic bungalow renovation emanated from a damaging water leak in the small and confined original kitchen. At the time, the homeowners were in the midst of planning a backyard renovation featuring a new pool. After months of planning the conclusion was to open the entire main level of the home to capitalize on the spectacular backyard focus.

The new kitchen was relocated to the back of the house, formerly a bedroom and small bath. The original dining room, living room, and family room were all flip flopped and reconfigured to create a natural and open flow into the new kitchen and sitting room featuring a full Nano Wall system opening to the renovated back yard oasis. Hosting an adjacent butler's pantry, the kitchen functions as the perfect axis for both the home and the integrated back yard.

About the Kitchen

This kitchen was completed in the late summer of 2019. The homeowners are avid cooks and wanted an open and accessible layout with top of the line appliances, ample storage and a modern but warm feel. The 'dirty kitchen' stores countertop appliances, has an additional sink and dishwasher, and serves as a walk in pantry, all of which can be hidden when the pocket door is closed. The cabinets are painted Green Smoke by Farrow & Ball and the back splash is layered with gray crackle subway tile to give it a more traditional edge.

The main attraction, the kitchen, is grand while also being understated. The neutral tones are muted but crisp with creamy floor to ceiling cabinets that hide two ovens, a fridge and a freezer. Opposite is a dish cabinet, which has beautiful black detailing inside. Oversized island with a waterfall edge serves as a grounding element and focal point for the room.

About the Kitchen

When approaching this kitchen, the homeowner who is enthusiastic about cooking, put forth the challenge to design a space that was both functional for the tasks at hand but also aesthetically pleasing. As great sight lines dominate this classic four-square house design, we aimed to transform the required asymmetrical function of the kitchen into one that felt very centered and balanced on the room. By blending stained cabinets centered on the main cooking area with painted cabinets flanking it, the eye “sees” balance. This wonderful kitchen, steps back to the days of fine craftsmanship, from its plastered walls and hood, to its minimal yet elegant cabinet design and understated beauty. Additionally, with the fine details of mortised olive hinges, unlacquered brass hardware, and solid white oak planked doors, it calls back to a time of a mastery between design and the artistry of woodworking. Through this amazing journey we were able to capture all the wants and needs from our client, providing them the perfect kitchen for their lifestyle.

About the Kitchen

The previous kitchen had low ceilings, very little natural light, and was disconnected from the other parts of the home. When the homeowners expressed interest in renovating to better accommodate entertaining their grown children's families, architect Linda MacArthur came up with the idea to raise the ceiling and add a clerestory. This addition allowed the Studio Entourage team to fit the design within the existing footprint and create an elongated kitchen that is now bathed in natural light. The design team also worked with the homeowner to carefully connect the kitchen to the adjacent living spaces.

With their love for cooking and entertaining, we also wanted to have an area outside of the main kitchen work zone for guests to gather and fix drinks. The separate beverage bar is the perfect addition across from the breakfast room that we created by enclosing a portion of the existing covered porch. The homeowners are also Francophiles who love braising dishes so having a gas La Cornue range was important and became a centerpiece for the kitchen.

About the Kitchen

Designed in partnership with acclaimed designer Steve McClure and German Kitchen Center, this modern, Buckhead condo exemplifies the glitz and glamour of in-town living. The homeowners graciously worked through the design and remodel process to create a space that functions as exquisitely as it appears. The German engineered cabinets from Leicht, feature white silk-matt finishes combined with walnut accents and white matt-glass that wraps around the corners of the kitchen for a continuous simplicity throughout the space. Calacatta Gold Silestone countertops and a full height backsplash elevates the design and adds a level of sophistication. The island is finished with a silk-matt black and features matching powder-coated handles that ground the furniture-like island to the homeowners tastefully selected dark walnut hardwood floor. The exceptionally high standards that are offered by Leicht, at German Kitchen Center, include full spectrum LED lighting, soft-close and full extension drawers with crisp glass sides and oak interior accessories.

About the Kitchen

The homeowners of this lovely 1950s cottage determined it was time to update their kitchen. One of their main goals was to make it more functional for their day to day lives while maintaining the cozy warmth and charm typical of the home.

Flush inset framed cabinetry was specified in finishes that flowed with adjacent rooms, along with bin pulls, marble countertops, and a hearth style cooking area which make this cottage kitchen feel as if it had always been there. Beautiful fabrics and cushions soften the space and pull it together while modern appliances and smart cabinet accessories make it current and functional.

As the backdrop for family time, day to day meals, holidays, and entertaining, this cottage kitchen delivers a living space worthy of the well-appointed home it resides in.

About the Kitchen

Our clients started with a traditional kitchen which was separated from their living room by a wall. Further, their kitchen peninsula cabinets and countertop blocked the flow between their kitchen, breakfast room and a large screened porch. By removing the wall and redesigning the layout with a large island, the spaces were united into a wonderful entertainment area. With a new updated cooking range top and coffee station, they are ready to enjoy their personal space and entertain guests. Their new island allows for flow between the rooms and throughout the kitchen onto the screened porch.
