Letter From the President and Tour of Kitchens Chair

Dear Friends and Patrons,

Welcome! The Junior League of Atlanta, Inc. (JLA) is delighted to present the 24th Annual Tour of Kitchens. Not only is this a showcase of some of the region's most esteemed designers and beautiful homes, but it's also an opportunity to highlight JLA's mission of promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women, and improving our community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Over the past two decades, Tour of Kitchens has raised more than two million dollars that has helped grow our work in the Atlanta community!

As we celebrate 24 memorable years of Tour of Kitchens, we would like to express our sincere gratitude for the generous support of guest kitchen designers for sharing their talents, our homeowners for welcoming tour patrons, our invaluable partners and sponsors, dedicated donors, volunteers, and Tour attendees. We also extend a special thank you to Modern Luxury, D'anne Cagle-Heckert, and Jenna Muller without whom this beloved springtime tradition would not be possible.

To officially kickoff the 2021 Tour of Kitchens season, we put a spin on things and hosted our first ever virtual home series sponsored by Charcuterie Chick and Post Meridiem. Guests enjoyed an interactive evening of how to build a Pinterest worthy board. Our series continued with a live virtual cooking class with Garnish and Gather. Toast of the Tour, our annual Tour of Kitchens celebration will be held virtually this year with a silent and private auction on Saturday, May 1. Every ticket comes with a free gift and access to the live event.

As you take the two-day, self-guided Tour of Kitchens on May 1 - 2, 2021 through some of our city's most stunning homes, we encourage you to get inspiration and immerse yourself in the creativity and innovation of the Atlanta design community. Each home is a showcase of the best and most inventive designs in our city. During the weekend, don't miss out on the special culinary and event demonstrations, tastings, and more at our homes. Please share your experiences during the weekend and following along @jlatourofkitchens and tag us in your photos by using #JLATOK and #TogetherJLA on social media.

Throughout our 104 years of service, JLA has harnessed the potential of Atlanta women to take the lead in an ever-evolving world and create a healthy community for children, women, and families. JLA has served as the premier source for civic leadership training and development opportunities for women who want to bring about lasting and meaningful change in their community. Our diverse group of members are a relevant and modern movement of women who are at the forefront of tackling some of the toughest issues affecting women and children - issues surrounding commercial sexual exploitation and human trafficking, early childhood education and generational poverty.

Your patronage of Tour of Kitchens enables JLA members and our community partners to take lead and deliver transformational community change. We look forward to seeing you during the Tour of Kitchens!!

Warmly,

Bre West

Bulla Gastrobar

Inspired by the famous gastrobars in Spain, Bulla (BOO-YAH) Gastrobar was born, a place that stirs the senses and stimulates the appetite. Why all the buzz? The bar and open kitchen design set the mood with an energetic vibe. The emphasis is on quality gastronomic creations made with the finest and freshest flavors. With tantalizing tapas, seasonal menus, hand-crafted cocktails, daily happy hour (from 3 - 6 p.m.) and an impressive wine list, Bulla is where you go to indulge in a celebration of good taste and home to the city's best Paella.

Con Leche

Con Leche is a lively, quaint cafe in Reynoldstown focused on specialty coffee and local baked goods. They focus on sourcing from local suppliers and uniquely offer unlimited coffee memberships.

Cooks & Soldiers

John Castellucci began his culinary career in the kitchens of his family's restaurants, helping them grow to a restaurant group, Castellucci Hospitality Group (CHG), and currently serves as executive chef at Spanish-inspired The Iberian Pig. Operating as the culinary arm of the family, Castellucci received his education from the Culinary Institute of America, and also received a bachelor's degree in Hospitality Management from Florida International University. Following his formal education, Castellucci pursued culinary training opportunities across the country and in Europe from some of the world's best chefs, before returning to Atlanta equipped with advanced talent and knowledge to share with CHG's culinary teams to push them to new levels of excellence. John helps to conceptualize and redevelop menus and continues to serve as a culinary leader for all of CHG's restaurants, setting high standards for the team, inspiring creativity across menus and leading by example. When he's not in the kitchen, John is an avid Atlanta sports fan and frequents independent coffee shops around the city.

Dr. Bombay's Underwater Tea Party

Welcome to Dr. Bombay's Underwater Tea Party, a community tea house and the cornerstone for our international women's education program The Learning Tea. Nestled in Atlanta's historic Candler Park neighborhood, we've been serving up tea, desserts and lasting memories since 2007. Shortly after establishing Dr. Bombay's, co-owner Katrell Christie founded The Learning Tea, which continues to offer housing, educational and empowerment opportunities for young women in the majestic Indian town of Darjeeling.

The years of great service in Atlanta and overseas have earned Dr. Bombay's and the Learning Tea recognition in publications including Southern Living Magazine, Huffington Post and more. We are a business happy to serve people of all stripes, colors and creeds. A large portion of every sale at Dr. Bombay's goes to support the Learning Tea's ongoing mission to improve the lives of its scholars in India. Whether you're enjoying our signature high tea service, a cup of coffee or one of our delicious desserts, you'll be part of a delightful experience for your senses and a movement that emphasizes giving a hand up instead of a hand out.

Faith Flowers

Laura Iarocci is the owner and founder of Faith Flowers, a floral design studio. Over the past 10 years she has designed many elegant, beautiful and award-winning weddings across the southeast. She teaches flower arranging classes out of her studio in Virginia Highland. She has also led over a dozen flower tours around the world to the Netherlands, Belgium, France, England, California and this April virtually. Laura has been the chair of the Cathedral of St. Phillip Flower Guild for over 20 years and the author of Faith Flowers, a step-by-step guide to church flowers.

Happy Camper

Happy Camper is on a mission to make it possible to eat healthy, wholesome foods on the go through creative, healthy breakfast and snack foods.

JLA Kids in the Kitchen

JLA Kids in the Kitchen initiative is committed to bringing the kitchen to kids. In honoring our new normal, we recognize the importance of digital content to reach a wide range of children. JLA YouTube channel houses some fun, kid-themed recipes. In addition, we have partnered with organizations to lead online cooking and baking classes.

O-Ku

O-Ku Atlanta provides a fresh and innovative take on traditional Japanese sushi and cuisine. Led by executive chef Masatomo "Masa" Hamaya, O-Ku's menu is comprised of signature starters, contemporary Japanese entrees and seasonal traditional sushi that reflect the uniquely designed space. The West Midtown restaurant offers rare and unique dining options along with traditional sashimi and specialty rolls, sourcing seafood from the finest fish markets in Tokyo and Hawaii alongside local and seasonal ingredients.

Peace of Thread

Peace of Thread is a non-profit organization that exists to empower, employ, and advocate for women in vulnerable populations like Clarkston, Georgia. The women we employ handmade one-of-a-kind handbags and accessories using upcycled fabrics/leathers from the Atlanta Decorative Arts Center.

Tiff's Treats

When Tiffany Taylor and Leon Chen were college sophomores at the University of Texas, she stood him up for a date and delivered hot-from-the-oven cookies to apologize. Leon convinced Tiff to turn her cookies into a business, and the first on-demand warm cookie delivery company was born. The company started as small as you can get, with the two of them taking orders on a cell phone and baking cookies in the oven at Leon's apartment. Today, Tiff and Leon are married, and the dream of delivery warm cookies is still alive and well, with more and more new stores popping up around the US each year. A commitment to a simple menu of classic cookie flavors, baked-to-order, and top-notch service keeps the company focused and growing. As of 2020, they're now shipping Take & Bake kits nationally! If you haven't experienced the moment you receive a box of warm cookies from Tiff's Treats, what are you waiting for? Visit cookie.delivery.com or download the Tiff's Treats mobile app to treat yourself or someone else day or night.

About the Kitchen

Nestled in the historic Druid Hills neighborhood of Atlanta in a 1920’s house, this newly renovated kitchen tells a story that blends its traditional roots with a modern update. “Our goal was to create a functional space for cooking, gathering, and entertaining that would also showcase the homeowner’s unique style,” says Jenny Lyons of Dove Studio. A stunning walnut island and deep gray cabinets add warmth and contrast to the pewter and zinc range hood, stainless steel appliances, and Neolith’s Himalayan Crystal countertops. “There are so many unique elements and details in this kitchen that blend together perfectly,” adds homeowner Paul Castell. It’s all in the details: glass-paneled wall cabinets with interior lighting showcase the homeowner’s vases and platters from past travels. By incorporating luxury Sub-Zero and Wolf appliances, including a 48” range, a wine fridge, and a built-in steam oven, this kitchen is the perfect haven for cooking and entertaining.

About the Kitchen

This luxury kitchen has all the perfect ingredients for the urban traditionalist. Luxurious fixtures refreshed with surprise details can be found throughout, such as the oversized mercury glass pendants that hang over a handsome island accented with Taj Majal quartzite and a cappuccino-stained walnut base. Polished nickel hardware tie in the mercury glass throughout this open-concept kitchen and butler's pantry while the use of Simply White by Benjamin Moore creates a crisp, yet warm finish. The eclipse styled subway tile adds a splash of artistry to this culinary lovers play-room and mirrors the woodwork that ornaments both ends of the island, just as the quartzite backsplash mirrors the island's luxe countertop. Top of the line Wolf appliances transform this artisan kitchen into a chef's dream, while a generous number of inset cabinetries, in addition to a massive pantry, provide more than ample amounts of storage. This stunning kitchen is the true heart of this stylish Ansley Park home.

About the Designer

Award-winning designer Emmye Otto Cherry has been honored over and over for her innovative design and timeless style. She first became interested in interior design in the seventh grade. "All of the other girls were taking home economics while I was in shop class," says Cherry. "I took mechanical drafting and immediately loved it!" That initial interest in perspective drawing ultimately led to a successful career, one that specializes in kitchen and bath design.

Whether she's concentrating on a specific room or designing a whole house, Cherry is intrigued by the architecture of Atlanta. "I love Atlanta for its variety of architecture – from Spanish Colonial to Craftsman to contemporary," she says "One day I'll be working on a ranch, the next a split-level and – maybe a week after that – a Need Reid house."

No project is beyond her scope, though she has the same goal for each one: "Making the client's dream come true" Cherry says "makes my own dreams come true, too."

About the Kitchen

The stunning design of this kitchen, dining, and family room is an expansive open floor plan, with a sweeping space and a magnificent cathedral ceiling. When you look out from the gallery above, your eye takes in the elegant design of the massive cypress beams and the 7-inch wide smoked oak plank floors that run the length of the exquisite space, as well as the custom wood-paneled fireplace wall with its formal limestone mantle. The impressive kitchen includes a dazzling waterfall island draped in Calcutta Caldia Marble, as well as large-scale walnut-accented cabinets with a striking amount of storage and display options. The oversized steel-strapped hood, two deep sinks, and luxurious counter space would keep any chef happy, whether preparing an intimate family meal or catering a large event. And there's easy access to the formal wet bar/butler's pantry featuring dark, rich cabinetry and a custom wine rack. The floor to ceiling windows let in a gorgeous light, with four sets of French doors that open to a beautiful private garden, a spectacular pool, and an extensive outside porch with a fireplace, perfect for entertaining.
